

'BAD DEFECTS' CITED AGAINST PROPOSED DAM

Friends of Perkiomen Present Case at Hearing

SAFETY FEATURE FLAWS POINTED OUT BY JUDGE

The State Water and Power Resources board, Harrisburg, yesterday heard conflicting testimony on the design of a huge dam planned by the Philadelphia Suburban Water company for the Perkiomen creek at Green Lane.

The board will hand down a decision later on the disputed dam which Friends of the Perkiomen, a group organized to fight construction of the big dam, have argued would vastly affect the Perkiomen water shed.

The water company proposes to take a 16,500,000 gallons of water per day from the Perkiomen.

Former Supreme Court Justice Grover C. Ladner, representing ten communities protesting construction of the dam, introduced as evidence excerpts from previous testimony by engineers which he said point out "serious flaws and defects in the safety features on the dam."

A BOARD SPOKESMAN said yesterday's hearing was on design of the dam.

He said permission to build the dam has not been granted but added it has been approved "by inference" because the company couldn't draw the 16,500,000 gallons of water without the dam.

Francis S. Friel, consulting engineer on the design of the dam, told the board the dam has a safety factor which would permit it to withstand the pressure of any conceivable flood.

Ladner questioned the safety of the 780-foot dam. He suggested a triangular breastworks with the apex pointing upstream.

He continued, "The construction of any dam places a very grave responsibility on those who design the dam and those who give permission for its construction. The residents of this valley are very uneasy."

THIS PAST SATURDAY, Norris-town Attorney Julian W. Barnard filed an equity action against the water company, which asked the Montgomery county court issue an injunction to restrain the water

Episcopal Clergymen Get New Charges In Pottstown Area

Two Episcopal clergymen have assumed new charges in the Pottstown area, it was announced last night.

The Rev. Albert E. Wilcox, former rector of St. Mary's Episcopal church, Warwick, who resigned there a week ago, has assumed the rectorship of St. John's Episcopal at Compass.

Meanwhile he will continue to serve St. Mark's Episcopal, Honeybrook, which he formerly served along with the St. Mary's charge.

The veteran rector, who was at St. Mary's church for seven years, came there from a church at Aronimink, near Philadelphia.

SUCCESSOR TO THE REV. Wilcox at the Warwick charge is the Rev. Kenneth Werner, recent graduate of Philadelphia Divinity school, who has been conducting services for the past several months at St. Andrew's Episcopal church, Ludwig's Corner.

Ira Amole, secretary of St. Andrew's church, said last night that St. Andrew's will be linked to the St. Mary's church to form a twin parish with the Rev. Werner as rector of both.

The new rector preached his first sermon at St. Mary's the past Sunday, the church secretary said.

Round Barn Burns to Ground

Here's all that fire left yesterday morning of one of the very few round barns in the Pottstown area. Boyertown and Gilbertsville firemen extinguish the smoldering wreckage on the farm of Willard L. Rhoads, Gilbertsville. Damage was estimated at $8000-$10,000. The barn was built like a cylinder to withstand high winds that had leveled rectangular barns.

Area With Smog

Smoke from a tallow fire in the slaughter house and butcher shop of Samuel Root, 233 York street, South Pottstown, laid a thick pall of smoke over a four block section yesterday at 4:30 p. m. before it was extinguished quickly by Pottstown firemen.

After a re-check, Root estimated damage to walls, rafters, a big iron cooking kettle, a door and a window at $600 to $700. He said the tallow in the kettle on a brick stand over-heated. It was the first time he'd had such a fire in more than 20 years in business, he added.

Root narrowly escaped being burned by fat as flames leaped at him when he turned a hose on the kettle.

The fire looked worse than it was because smoke poured out of a roof ventilator as fast as it arose.

ROOT SAID the fire might easily have gotten out of hand if it hadn't been for Good Will Fire company's quick response. "They were here within three minutes of my call," he asserted.

Robert Roth, Good Will chief, summoned additional help as a precautionary measure. Philadelphia Steam Fire Engine and Empire Hook and Ladder companies responded.

Answering the alarm with firemen was North Coventry Police Chief Daniel W. Guldin.

Cool Breeze Soothes Fevered Foreheads; Temperature Drops

A friendly breeze, stealing along sun-baked streets, cooled Pottstown's fevered brow yesterday.

After the steaming discomfort of the preceding days, the first sign of cooler weather came as a welcome relief.

Early risers and stayers-up late called the hours before dawn the best part of the day.

Temperatures went down to the comfortable 60s shortly before 4 a. m., while the stars shimmered overhead in the cooler air.

BY NOONTIME, though, it was warm enough to bring a glow to the face of all but the most composed borough inhabitants.

The steady breeze that swept lightly across open stretches of town was all that kept the glaring sun from again becoming oppressive.

As usually is the case on a day when the weather is tolerable, not so many comments were heard about it.

Such remarks as "not quite so warm today" didn't seem to have the force and sincerity of the preceding days' "what a scorcher!" or "isn't the heat terrible today?"

IT LOOKED last night as though the heat might return for the week end, though with a forecast of cloudiness tomorrow and a general warming up as the day progresses. But meantime, Pottstown may sleep under blankets tonight.

It will be mostly sunny today, with a high of 74 to 80, but tonight the mercury will dip to the chilly low 50s and a possible low of 47 or so.

Barn Built to Withstand Wind Hit by Fire; Loss Is $10,000

A rarity among Pottstown area barns—a round one—burned to the ground near Gilbertsville yesterday morning in a fire that caused an estimated $8000-$10,000 damage.

The owner, Willard L. Rhoads, garbage contractor for Boyertown and vicinity, said he believed the small, red barn had been built 40 years or more ago by Ephraim Frick.

A short time before Frick built it, there had been a windstorm that leveled many farm buildings in the Gilbertsville section, Rhoads said, and Frick built a round one to withstand wind better.

William Gerhart, hose director of Gilbertsville Fire company, who led firemen from the Gilbertsville and Boyertown companies, said, "It was the only round barn I know of in this vicinity."

Gerhart estimated damage to the building at $7000 or $8000 and damage to the contents at another $1000 or $2000. His estimate was backed by Rhoads and by Raymond Gehris, an employee well acquainted with the contents. Rhoads carried insurance.

Cause of the fire was unknown. Rhoads said the only thing he knew of that could possibly have caused it was electric wires running to the barn.

THIS WAS reported by Benjamin C. Steele, borough health officer, after he had mailed a report yesterday to the lot owner's brother, Burgess William A. Griffith.

The report was on an inspection of the lot made, on Burgess Griffith's request, by Steele, Borough Fire Chief Richard E. Lindauer and Borough Fire Marshal George D. Herbst.

Burgess Griffith has indicated he would base his future action on the report. His brother had been sent a notice from the borough to clean up his lot. The ten-day grace period has expired.

"WE FOUND that he had cut the weeds there and removed some of the material," Steele asserted.

In an earlier inspection, the three men said they found no specific violation that would come under their jurisdiction but added they thought it was unsightly.

The notice was about the Morris and Price streets lot. Nearby residents have charged that the lot at Morris and Keim streets, also owned by the burgess' brother, was in bad condition, too.

EXPERT RATES CHANCES

Twister Could Hit Here

BY MERCURY STAFF WRITER STANLEY ZAWADZKI

Don't take a worried peek at the sky right now, there's probably no tornado heading your way—but remember, there's always that chance.

That's how an area meteorologist last night rated Pottstown's chances of being ripped by winds, similar to those which buzz-sawed through Massachusetts Tuesday and Ohio and Michigan on Monday.

"There's always the possibility that a tornado will hit Pottstown or the area here," is the way Matthew I. Peacock, of the Reading Weather bureau, put it.

"Every state in the country has had them," he said, "and areas right around here have been hit."

TO BACK up his statement, Peacock would only have to go back less than a year to July 21, 1952.

At 7 o'clock that evening, a blinding electrical storm with hail and whipping rain served as the curtain-raiser to winds that shrieked their way out of the Swamp creek area south of Gilbertsville.

In a 10-minute blitzkrieg, barn roofs were ripped off as easily as tinsel wrappers, silos tumbled into heaps of firewood and steel hoops, and huge trees were torn up by the roots.

The storm was only two days late of occurring on the same days as the 1951 twister which plowed a 14-mile furrow of destruction in the Congo area.

DAMAGE from the storm which began at 2:40 p. m. ran into the hundreds of thousands of dollars. The small community nine miles north of Pottstown was the hardest hit.

The wind there tore the entire third story off a solidly-built frame house, leveled one barn, tore the brick walls off another and flattened scores of smaller buildings.

An estimated 1000 telephones were knocked out of service from Royersford to Pennsburg.

The tornado, an eerie black storm which has raised havoc over the Nation and which could strike at the heart of Pottstown on any given day, is in no way related to the atomic explosion.

Matthew I. Peacock, Reading Weather bureau, last night dispelled the apprehension of the area's amateur weather prophets who insist the recent atomic blasts in western United States are causing the savage attacks of tornadoes.

He pointed out many tornadoes have hit the State in the past and others can be expected in future years.

AS WITH most twisters, freakish actions popped up in this one. Bennett said, "I had about 500 chickens in that building."

Project

4 PICKED FOR AUTHORITY AT BOYERTOWN SESSION

The first step toward building a 12-district school was taken by the Boyertown Joint High School district committee last night.

Meeting in the Boyertown High school library, representatives of the 12 co-operating districts commissioned an architect to draw up the specifications.

After hearing four architects speak, the committee elected Elmer H. Adams, of St. Lawrence, near Reading, to sketch the first plans.

The committee also named four of the 12 members who will serve on the joint school authority.

THEY ARE Ralph J. Geisler, Perkiomenville RD 1, Fagleyville district; Warren C. Sterner, Bechtelsville, Douglass township (Montgomery county); Francis Sell, Boyertown RD 2, Douglass township (Berks county); and Arthur Mills, Gilbertsville RD 1, New Hanover district (Montgomery county).

Eight other members of the authority will be named at further meetings of the committee, it was indicated.

Authority members must be responsible citizens who are not members of the joint committee or of their district school boards.

The committee authorized Secretary Ruth R. Yoder to countersign the payroll checks for the joint district.

GEORGE B. Swinehart, supervising principal of Boyertown schools who will hold the same position under the joint setup, had been authorized to sign the checks at the first meeting of the joint committee two weeks ago.

During the next meeting of the committee on June 24 it will discuss a tentative budget and a room

TWO ARE HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Minor Injuries Result
From Collision in Gilbertsville

A rear-end front-end collision on Route 73, Gilbertsville, early last night resulted in minor injuries to two passengers and heavy damage to a 1950 convertible.

Daniel E. Reppert, Gilbertsville, reported he was driving south on 73 from Boyertown toward his home and slowed on the highway to make a right turn into an alley when a yellow convertible driven by Harold E. Keyser, Woxall, collided with his 1950, four-door sedan from the rear.

Reppert reported, "I passed him on the way down from Boyertown. He was waiting for me to pass in the upper end of Gilbertsville with two passengers in his car."

"I continued along the highway and when I slowed to make the right turn, we collided."

REPPERT'S island green sedan was driven from the scene with a caved in trunk and dented bumper. The radiator, grill, front fenders and lights of the Keyser car were damaged. It was pushed to the side of the road and later towed to a Woxall garage.

The two passengers were identified by Reppert as the Reimert sisters, both of Gilbertsville. They were treated in the Boyertown office of Dr. Elmo B. Sommers for minor facial injuries. The oldest girl was identified as Shirley, 17. Trooper Albert Kweeder of the Jeffersonville State police investigated.

Yugoslavia Shows Population Increase

BELGRADE, June 10 (AP)—A new census in Yugoslavia shows a population of 16,927,000 persons, seventh largest on the European continent. This compares to 12,465,000 in 1921, to 14,458,000 in 1931 and to 15,770,000 in 1948 and represents a population growth of approximately 36 percent since the end of the World War I.

On the basis of official figures from Yugoslav government sources, approximately one person out of every ten lost his life during the past war as a result of bombings, fighting and lack of hospitalization.

HARRY L. SMITH, EX-PRINCIPAL, DIES AT HOME

He Served as Senior High
Head From 1929
Until 1951

Harry L. Smith, 67, principal of Pottstown Senior High school from 1929 until 1951, died early yesterday at his home, 1325 High street.

He became a schoolman on what he thought was a temporary basis, taking a post as substitute supervising principal while recovering from pneumonia. Until then, he had been an engineer. He was to stay in the teaching profession 39 years.

When he retired, because of a 62-year age limit invoked by the school board then in power, he was succeeded by the vice principal, Stanley I. Davenport Jr.

Mr. Smith suffered a heart attack while on a visit to the home in Riverside, Calif., of a daughter, Mrs. William Stryker. After his return three weeks ago, he was in Memorial hospital for a week.

APPARENTLY recovered, he returned to work as salesman for C. J. Keiser company, Pottstown appliance dealers. He worked there Tuesday and attended a meeting of Pottstown Savings and Loan association Tuesday night.

He died in his sleep of the heart ailment. His death was discovered by his wife, Clara (Pawling) Smith, at 5:30 o'clock. Physicians said he apparently had died three or four hours earlier.

While he was principal, both the vocational and home economics departments were added to the high school program. Other additions were that of a

Signed Letter Mailed To Health Officer on Stagnant Water Pool

Benjamin C. Steele, borough health officer, probably will receive today the formal complaint about the stagnant water around a 36-inch concrete storm sewer pipe that ends abruptly 50 feet behind a Wilson street home.

Steele said yesterday he had not yet received the letter. Mrs. John Kuhns, 578 Wilson street, said she mailed the letter, signed by herself and four other residents of the block between Washington and Adams streets, early this week.

In the letter, Mrs. Kuhns said, she pointed out that the water was a breeder of insects, was unsanitary and unsightly and after rain, formed a pool that was dangerously deep for little children in the neighborhood.

As Union Rejects
Pay Offer

CARPENTERS VOTE DOWN 10-CENT RAISE IN PAY

All construction on the Pottstown hospital building project probably will be halted in another two weeks it was learned late last night.

Hospital Administrator A. C. Seavell said the Carpenters Union (AF) rejection of a wage boost has increased the possibility of a complete work stoppage at the hospital.

Carpenters of the Metropolitan District council, voted against a 10-cent per hour wage hike in elections yesterday in Philadelphia by a three to one count.

Approximately 5000 carpenters cast ballots. Seavell said, "Work has been set back now a month and a half by the strike. We had hoped it would be settled today."

"PLUMBING and electrical work has been underway, but if the carpenters don't go back to work shortly all work will cease."

"None of the work on demolition on the old center section of the hospital can be started until carpenters go back to work. No forms can be prepared for the pouring of concrete."

"Excavators have gone about as far as they can. It's really a shame. We're wasting all this good weather. They'll never catch up on construction now."

United Fund Leaders Will Meet to Draw Schedule for Study

Leaders of the 12 local agencies in Pottstown's United Fund will meet today at 4 p. m. in the YWCA to draw up a schedule for the study of agencies to be made by the unprecedentedly large budget and admissions committee, for which 92 men and women have been nominated.

The huge committee—its size is part of a plan to widen the public understanding of fund work—will be divided into four panels, each of which will study various types of agencies.

Vinicio Fisher, executive secretary, said a joint meeting of the four panels will be held July 29 at 8 p. m. in the YMCA.

Each panel will devote at least two hours to studying each agency, Fisher reported—the first hour to (Continued on Page Fifteen)

Work on Water Line Started in North End

Borough workers have begun the project which was recommended as a relief to water shortage in the North End.

An eight-inch water main will be installed on Wilson street from Charlotte to Hanover streets. It will tie into a 10-inch line on Charlotte street.

Work on the new project began yesterday.

This past Summer during hot, dry months residents were asked to cease lawn sprinkling to conserve water. A drop in pressure forced many North End residents to go bathtubs on hot nights.

During the Winter the water committee ordered a survey of the borough's water system by Albright and Friel (Philadelphia consulting engineers) to determine a solution to the low-pressure problem.

Yesterday the first action on the recommendation was taken with the new line on Wilson street.

Pottstown Portraits

A Quick Look at Your Neighbor

By LARRY DAVIS

In 1949, Edwin F. Pierman, 1062 Park drive, rolled the dice with the Grim Reaper and won.

"The doctors said I had one chance in a thousand," he says in retrospect. "Or maybe it was one in a hundred. Anyhow, it wasn't much of a chance; but I came through."

As he speaks in a tone of resignation, Pierman is referring to a long ordeal under the surgeon's knife in which he had removed two-thirds of his stomach, his pancreas, and part of his spleen. Now 64, Pierman regards it a miracle that Army doctors tending him as a Veterans Administration patient were able to pull him through the six-hour operation.

"I woke up. There I was flat on my back in an oxygen tent with an awful pain in my back," he recalls. "The doctor was there and I asked him when, please, was he going to operate. He just stood there with a big grin on his face and said: 'Mr. Pierman, we operated on you yesterday.'"

Though his life was saved, the operation ruled out any regular, gainful employment. This was a jolt to a man who had been active all his life. It also dropped his weight from a robust 180 pounds on a big frame to a gaunt 130.

But it didn't rob him of his sense of humor and his interest in baseball, football, children and flowers.

Pierman was born on April 18, 1889, at 415 Chestnut street, the youngest in a family of eight children. His mother was the late Rebecca (Evans) while his father was the late Tobias Jacob Pierman, for 35 years a stationary engineer in the universal mill of the Glasgow Iron company.

Of the four boys and four girls, only he and a sister, Mrs. Jessie Pierman Sell, survive.

He attended the old Chestnut street school and the Streeter school through the Fourth grade before he went to work to help support the large family as delivery boy for the late William Stetler, a High street butcher.

When he was 16, he sought work at and was employed by the Glasgow mill as a "door boy" at 85 cents per 12-hour day.

It was his job to see that the furnace doors were opened and shut during the charging and emptying of the furnaces.

Later, he advanced to the "bull gang," which was the yard labor force, to the "peal gang" as a furnace leader and unloader, as a furnace helper and then on the "turnover" table.

After eight years in the mill, he went west to Pittsburgh with Harry Spare, Leopold Bechler and John Emmerick to work in the plant of Moorehead Brothers and company, a subsidiary of Bethlehem Steel company in 1911 and 1912.

Pierman returned to Pottstown and joined the force at the Lessig Nail factory, tending hot iron machines for eight- and ten-penny nails. He still carries a scar on his left wrist, the result of a "hot metal" accident there.

Shortly before World War I, he went with the freight office of the Reading company from which he was drafted into the Army on Nov. 2, 1917, along with a group of 103 other Pottstown men.

He served in France as a rifleman with Company G, 316th Regiment of the 79th division, and saw action in the Meuse, Argonne and St. Mihiel offensives.

Gassed in the Argonne, he was hospitalized two months before returning home for separation at Ft. Dix, N. J., in June 1919. He rejoined the Reading company and for 28 years was an assistant foreman in the freight station until 1943.

On Jan. 28, 1925, he married the former Edna Valeria Boyer, of Pottstown, in New York. They were separated by her death in 1946. There is one son, Sgt. Charles B. Pierman, with the Third Armored division at Ft. Knox, Ky.

Five months in a veterans hospital for pneumonia and an abscessed lung preceded his joining the guard force at the Army hospital in Phoenixville in 1945-46.

Pierman is a member of the First Methodist church. He belongs to the Eagles Home association, the American Legion, the Owls and the Empire Hook and Ladder company. He is a great uncle thrice over and makes his home on Park drive with a nephew.

He's Done Something for Himself!

Only a few short minutes ago, the man you see in the picture above was handed the golden keys to his 1953 Cadillac—and now he's off on that first delightful journey behind the wheel.

And as he leans back against the deep, soft cushion, and looks out over that proud hood into the roadway beyond . . . well, he knows that he's done something for himself!

He knows it just from the way he feels there in the driver's seat—rested, relaxed, and at peace with the world . . . completely confident that he has made the wisest possible choice of a motor car.

He senses it in the marvelous way the car handles and drives and rides . . . so effortless and smooth and quiet that it's a joy and an inspiration just to hold the wheel in his hands.

And he knows it, too, from the feeling of pride and satisfaction he enjoys as he looks forward to the delight of his family and the approval of his acquaintances and friends.

And how the miles and the years will bear him out in his conviction!

Let him arrive at a distinguished hotel . . . or an exclusive club . . . and he will find that his Cadillac constitutes the perfect "letter of introduction."

In fact, let him travel wherever he will in this broad land of ours . . . and he will find his Cadillac a trustworthy and unfailing companion, an inspiration to own and drive, a valued contributor to a magnificent way of life.

Yes, you're looking at a man who's done something wonderful for himself—wonderful beyond even his fondest dreams.

And if you think it's time you did something for yourself, then we suggest you come in and see us. Let's make it "Cadillac time" for you!

3 Allied Truce Negotiators Leave for Scattered Points; Staff Officers Continue to Negotiate Minor Truce Details

UN Team Could Resume Talks in Hours If Needed

MUNSAN, THURSDAY, June 11 (AP)—Three of the five UN command truce negotiators left Munsan today on visits to Tokyo and the Korean War front, indicating it will take a few days for lower level staff officers to whip an almost complete Korean armistice document into final form.

However, the negotiators could speed back here in a matter of a few hours if a full-dress armistice session were called.

The chief UN and Communist truce delegates recessed indefinitely yesterday, subject to call by either side.

Their staff officers went on working secretly in the thatched conference hut at Panmunjom to iron out administrative details that remain before full, final agreement on a truce can be reached.

THE CHIEF job of the staff officers appeared to be drawing a cease-fire line to separate Red and Allied forces 12 hours after a truce is signed.

A UN command spokesman said Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, Jr., senior Allied delegate, went to the US Third division area on the battlefield for a personal visit.

That left only one member of the UN delegation, Brig. Gen. Ralph M. Osborne, in Munsan.

The South Korean delegate, Maj. Gen. Chuk Shin, is continuing the boycott of the sessions that he began May 25 when the Allies presented their latest proposal for truce terms.

SIGNING OF An armistice appeared likely shortly after the staff officers finished their task, unless hopes are dashed by bitter, persistent South Korean opposition to any cease-fire that would leave Korea divided with Chinese Communist troops still occupying the northern part.

Another possible bar to a quick truce in the three-year war is refusal by Switzerland to serve on a prisoner of war repatriation commission unless South Korea consents to armistice terms.

HOUSE REJECTS SALES TAX BILL

County Representatives Vote Against Measure

HARRISBURG, June 10 (AP)—The Republican-dominated House tonight defeated outright the long-stalled State sales tax.

The roll call vote was 94-102. Montgomery county representatives William A. Bolton and Thomas H. W. Jones were among the 12 Republicans in the House voting against the tax.

The sales tax, first choice of the Republican House leadership, to solve the Commonwealth's financial problems, lacked 11 votes of the necessary 105 to pass a bill.

THE VOTE WAS taken after GOP Assembly leaders agreed to bring the session-long tax deadlock to a decision and fixed Thursday, July 2, as final adjournment date of the 1953 session.

What effect defeat of the sales tax would have on adjournment plans was not decided immediately.

Rep. Albert W. Johnson, Republican floor leader, leading the GOP fight for the levy, told the House that a broad base tax was necessary because of increased teachers' salaries, the 500 million dollar veterans bonus and mounting demands for welfare services.

Johnson said that under the sales tax, an average wage earner making $2400 a year would pay $5 to $7 a year.

"THIS IS THE fairest tax we, at this time, can put forth," Johnson told the House. "We have come to the stage where we have run out of hodge-podge taxes."

"The time has come when the man in the street should put his shoulder to the wheel and do his share to run the State. This is the vehicle."

Bidault Loses French Premiership By One Vote in National Assembly

PARIS, THURSDAY, June 11 (AP)—The French National Assembly early today turned down Georges Bidault's bid to become new premier and end the country's three-week cabinet crisis.

Bidault, a leader of the Catholic Popular Republican movement (MRP), was the third candidate the Assembly has refused to confirm during the current Government crisis. Paul Reynaud, a wartime premier when France fell before the Nazi invaders, and Pierre Mendes-France were turned down by the Assembly before it disposed of Bidault's bid.

An absolute majority of 314 votes is needed for Assembly confirmation. Bidault received 313. Reynaud had received 276 and Mendes-France 301.

Bidault's defeat throws the problem of forming a French Government right back to where it started—in the lap of President Vincent Auriol, who will have to pick a new candidate.

In addition to the three who actually went before the assembly seeking approval, Socialist Guy Mollet and Andre Diethelm, member of the former De Gaulle group in Parliament, refused to try to form governments. These last two felt they had no chance of success. Another former premier, Antoine Pinay, was sounded out unofficially but also turned down the job.

Bidault, 54, has served two terms as premier of postwar cabinets. He was foreign minister in the outgoing cabinet of Premier Rene Mayer, which was forced out by defeat on a confidence vote.

In his bid for power Bidault proposed no changes in French foreign policy.

Legislator Pushes Anti-Squeak Bill

HARRISBURG, June 10 (AP)—An irritated lawmaker, who said he's been kept awake for the past two nights, today introduced a bill requiring hotel beds to be equipped with soft rubber bumpers and non-squeak springs.

Rep. H. J. Maxwell (D-Westmoreland) co-sponsored the measure with Rep. Charles J. Mills (D-Westmoreland).

"I've been kept awake for the last two nights by squeaking bedsprings in the adjoining room," Maxwell told newsmen.

The bill carries a penalty of $50 fine or ten days in jail.

CHINESE REDS RENEW ATTACKS ON UN POSITIONS

Fighting Breaks Out After Pre-Truce Lull in Battle

SEOUL, THURSDAY, June 11 (AP)—Thousands of Chinese Communists struck Allied positions on the Central and Eastern Korean fronts before dawn today in an apparent last-minute grab for territory as UN and Communist staff officers, mapped out a cease-fire line for an expected imminent truce.

The US Eighth army said sketchy reports from the fronts reported fighting continued into the daylight hours.

The bitter close-quarter fighting snapped a lull in ground and air action that began recently when the armistice talks at Panmunjom showed signs of bearing fruit.

The Chinese Reds smashed into five Allied positions on the East Central front in fierce, bloody combat.

THE EIGHTH ARMY said 3000 to 4000 Chinese struck South Korean mainline trenches at two points east of outpost Texas on the Central front. Allied big guns pounded a battalion of Red reinforcements moving into the area.

Bloody, close-range fighting also raged near outpost Harry, northeast of Chorwon on the East-Central front. The Reds hurled an estimated 1000 men in six attacks against an Allied position.

Smaller Red forces attacked Allied strongholds at three other points in the same area, and gained a foothold on one of them, the Eighth army reported.

On the Eastern front, 300 to 400 Reds grabbed a portion of an outpost ridge near Christmas hill, west of the Mundung valley. The Reds were fighting off bitter South Korean counter-attacks at last report.

Allied fighter-bombers pounded Red targets Wednesday, including two airfields, one at Kanggye, west North Korea near the Manchurian border. Protecting Sabre jets tangled with Russian-built MIG-15s near the Manchurian border.

Knowland Takes Over for Ailing Taft

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio), disclosing he is suffering from a painful and "serious" hip ailment, gave up his day-to-day floor leadership of Senate Republicans today.

Senator Knowland of California, chairman of the Senate GOP Policy committee, took over as acting leader.

Knowland will retain his title as Senate majority leader—generally regarded as second only to the presidency in terms of political power—and will continue to keep a close watch on legislation.

But he said a schedule of X-ray and other treatments will prevent him from carrying out the heavy duties of floor routine. As majority leader, Taft was required to spend long hours in his aisle seat on the Senate floor, closely following details of parliamentary procedure and tactics.

DE GASPERI SETS MIDDLE COURSE

Premier Seeks to Continue Pro-American Policies in Government

ROME, June 10 (AP)—Premier Alcide De Gasperi pledged tonight to continue his middle-way Government with the majorities his pro-American Coalition has just won in both the Senate and the Chamber of Deputies.

The Government held majorities of only seven seats in the 243-seat Senate and 16 seats in the 590-seat Chamber.

The weary, gaunt-faced leader of the Christian Democrats, still by far the country's major political force, harshly criticized resurgent Monarchists. Of the continuing Communist strength, revealed by the two-day parliamentary elections, De Gasperi said:

"I was not surprised. I was impressed."

The Premier's statement was his first since the voting in which his coalition appeared at first blush to have missed out on lower House bonus seats which a new law would give to a party or bloc with sufficient majority. On the contrary, both the extreme right and extreme left scored gains in the Chamber.

HOWEVER, DESPITE these gains for the extremists, De Gasperi said, he will continue his middle-way.

"This," he explained, "is the politics of good sense and the condition for continued progress. I will always remain a centrist."

This was the first positive indication that De Gasperi will not seek, as had been speculated, support from either extreme right or left for his weakened center forces.

The elections, he said, showed the Communist danger in Italy "is not a phantom."

AID INJURED—Doctors and civilians go from victim to victim at the tornado-struck Government veterans project in Worcester, Mass. The rare tornado, which struck late Tuesday afternoon, leveled hundreds of buildings in this central Massachusetts city.

Death Toll Climbs to 86 After New England's Worst Blow

WORCESTER, Mass., June 10 (AP)—The toll of dead mounted to 86 today, 24 hours after New England's worst tornado—a black, spinning fury of nature—chopped through Central Massachusetts like a giant lawnmower.

As 2000 helmeted National Guardsmen made their floodlights ready for night patrol of this industrial city and its environs, officials estimated 800 men, women and children had been injured and 2500 made homeless.

City councilor Irving Katz—a real estate man, estimated damage at $50,000,000.

The devastated region was declared a disaster area by the Reconstruction Finance corporation, opening the way for emergency loans, and President Eisenhower wired sympathy to the stricken people in a message to Gov. Hexter.

HERTER LATER wired the President that the tornado was a "major disaster" and requested Federal relief. Under Federal law the governor or another responsible official of a state must be unable to estimate the damage in Worcester, it was so extensive. But they listed the loss to other communities as follows:

Shrewsbury, $15,000,000; Westborough, $2,500,000; Northboro, $1,000,000; Rutland, $500,000; Barre, $200,000; Southboro, $250,000; Holden, $7,000,000.

Only the 1938 hurricane took a heavier toll in lives and property damage, with 588 persons killed or missing and damage of $470,000,000. These figures, however, covered all of New England.

Fears were expressed that other bodies might be found in the splintered debris but, only one person is reported missing, the 15-day-old daughter of Mrs. Ruth Oslund.

Duke of Edinburgh Celebrates Birthday

LONDON, June 10 (AP)—The Duke of Edinburgh was 32 years old today. Crowds around Buckingham palace sang "Happy Birthday" and guns boomed salutes to the tall and handsome husband of Queen Elizabeth II.

Tomorrow is the official birthday of the newly crowned Queen, with the pagantry of trooping of the color.

But this was her husband's day to be cheered.

Mindful of his background as a sailor, the Royal Navy broke out its gayest flags to dress all British warships, wherever in the world they might be. Radio programs broadcast greetings and the Duke was showered with congratulatory telegrams and letters.

The Queen's real birthday—she is 27—is April 21. The official birthdays of British sovereigns usually are observed in June, with the hope that the weather will be good for the brilliant military displays.

TORNADO —

"When the wind lifted it into the air, it blew the chickens out and most of them came down all right. 'I lost only about half a dozen chickens,' he reported.

Other smaller buildings and many big trees also were flattened, he said.

Multiplying such individual losses for the 69 storms recorded in the 34-year period ending in 1949, Meteorologist Peacock reported the State's price tag was $6½ million.

PEACOCK said one of the costliest storms hit the area around Pottsville in 1937. "The damage total on that one came to $750,000," he reported.

"Four tornadoes have hit Philadelphia," he said. "In the worst ones, in Aug. 23, 1885, two people were killed and in the one March 27, 1911, one person died."

Peacock put the chances for tornadoes on an all-year round 24-hour basis.

"The early Spring and Summer months are regarded as the tornado season," he reported "but they can happen in Winter or any time of the year.

"They can hit at any time of the day or night, too. About 82 percent, however, have occurred in the afternoon.

"As long as favorable conditions for their development exist," he said, "they can occur."

WARM AIR from the Gulf mixing with the cold air from Canada, set up the favorable conditions, the meteorologist reported.

The Weather Bureau can predict the occurrence of a tornado in an area of several states, Peacock said, but "we can't pinpoint any one town or city.

"The conditions producing the tornado change and keep changing. That's why it is impossible to say just where one will strike."

Just what gives the twister the wallop it carries, was explained when Peacock reported that winds in the center of the funnel have been clocked at from 200 to 500 miles an hour.

"Usually," he said, "it cuts a swath averaging 1200 feet in width. Most tornadoes blow themselves out after stretching out about 16 miles."

In case you want to keep pace with one, Peacock reports, it travels about 40 miles an hour.

And should one hit, the best thing to do is seek shelter in some strongly constructed building, preferably beneath the ground floor.

BARN FIRE —

feet of hose were laid as 30 firemen battled flames and dense smoke for 45 minutes.

Hose was laid to a small stream 1000 feet across a field from the Rhoads farmyard, which is along Jackson road, a half mile south of the center of Gilbertsville.

Adding to the excitement was the banging of the shotgun that Gehris had left in the barn and a successful roundup of the 200-pound hogs.

The fire was discovered by Rhoads' 10-year-old son, Willard, while the father was in Boyertown on business. The son said he hadn't been in the barn for a half hour before he saw flames while walking near the barn.

When Gilbertsville Fire company reached the scene, the barn already was a mass of flames. "There wasn't much to do," Gehris said, "except try to save the building."

Seven pieces of apparatus were at the scene—two from Gilbertsville; three from Friendship Hook and Ladder company and two from Keystone Fire company, both Boyertown. In addition, there was a Boyertown Community ambulance.

company from building the dam near Green Lane.

Barnard is representing Collegeville, East Greenville, Green Lane, Pennsburg, Red Hill, Schwenksville, Trappe, Trumbauersville, Lower and Upper Frederick, Lower Providence, Skippack, Upper Hanover, Towamencin and Norristown. Friends of the Schuylkill have joined Friends of the Perkiomen to fight dam construction.

Barnard in filing the equity suit said he is concerned not only with the future of the Perkiomen but also of the Schuylkill, which is affected by the Jerkison.

He said the Perkiomen waters do a lot to neutralize the acids in the Schuylkill and give the Schuylkill the flow of water it requires to cleanse itself.

Forests and Waters Secretary Samuel S. Lewis, board chairman, observed during the hearing "No matter what we do here, this issue will be fought out in the courts."

age and virtues which are ours in the American system by our own efforts," he said, challenging the class to make a personal contribution toward that end.

Another highlight of the evening was the presentation of awards by Joel B. Francis, president of the Collegeville-Trappe joint school board.

Patricia Jones, class valedictorian, was awarded the Community club scholarship of $100. The award was given to the girl attaining the highest average among those in the class who have applied for admission to Ursinus college.

Miss Jones was previously announced as the winner of the new four-year grant provided by Ursinus college to be known as the Ursinus college Collegeville-Trappe Joint high school scholarship.

This is expected to be an annual award.

MISS JONES was also awarded the Bausch and Lomb science medal for the highest average in science subjects, the Reader's Digest award as the class valedictorian and the Parent-Teachers association award of $15 for having the highest Twelfth grade average.

Beatrice Finwood won the Collegeville Lions club award of $15 as the pupil who has achieved the highest three-year average in commercial work.

The Lions club award of $15 to the pupil who has achieved the highest three-year average in shop work was awarded Robert Adrian.

Charles Landes was awarded the Rotary club of Lower Perkiomen award of $35 for the "Tomorrow's Leaders Encampment" to be held at Camp Delmont. The purpose of the encampment is to study the function and basic ideals of the American free enterprise system.

The Danforth foundation award of the book "I Dare You" to the all-around girl and boy went to Miriam Place and Landes.

SCHOOL BOARD PRESIDENT Francis announced that about 32 percent of the class plans to pursue further study at college or nursing school.

Rating this an exceptional percentage, Francis said ten pupils have been admitted to colleges and universities, one to a junior college and two plan to attend nursing school.

He pointed out that, as previously announced, Sandra Forker and Jeannette Lauffer will attend Ursinus under special four-year scholarships provided by the Evangelical and Reformed church. Douglas Godshall will attend Brown university as winner in the national competitions for NROTC scholarships.

At the exercises last night, the presentation of the mantle symbolizing the responsibility of the Senior class was performed by Edwin H. Rother, president of the Senior class.

The mantle was accepted by the president of the Junior class, William Andes.

The benediction at the ceremonies was given by the Rev. W. Reed Teitsworth, of St. James church, Limerick. The Rev. Henry Johnson, of the Lower Skippack Mennonite church, gave the invocation.

Orations were presented by three members of the class.

Newcomers Club Holds Dinner Dance to Mark Officers' Installation

Did you ever see a welcome mat as big as Pottstown?

That's how the Newcomers club thinks of itself as it spreads its invitations to membership throughout the borough in an effort to absorb each new feminine resident into Pottstown life.

At the group's annual dinner dance last evening, more than 125 newcomers were a sample of the club's scope.

Very few arrivals, the club believes have been missed in its continuing project of welcoming every new family.

When a family moves into Pottstown, Mrs. Russell Shelly visits them and extends an invitation, on behalf of the club, to have the woman of the house join the group.

The club membership is 150. Each member belongs to the club for a five year period.

Last night in the Die Casters club, the group held the dinner dance to celebrate the installation of its officers.

Husbands accompanied their wives and after-supper dancing was from 9 p. m. to the music of Harry Leh and his orchestra.

Tables were decorated with Spring flowers of red, pink and yellow. Pale blue candles were placed between flower vases.

On the center table stood a large white candle with Newcomers inscribed on it.

From this candle the new officers lit their small candles as they were installed by the outgoing president, Mrs. William Derry.

Mrs. James Taxler assumed office as new president. She has been in Pottstown for a year and a half. She formerly lived in Tarrytown, N. Y.

Another resident for a year and a half is the vice president, Mrs. William Leiser. Reading was her former home town.

Mrs. Paul McGee, secretary, came here from Ardmore two years ago.

Treasurer, Mrs. Donald Foust, formerly lived in Allentown and has been here for one year.

Members come from throughout America and as far as Europe. Some representative territories are Germany, Austria, Massachusetts, Florida, Ohio and New York.

The group maintains a program of social activities.

It sponsors dances, picnics, bowling teams and art classes.

Once a year a yearbook is published that lists the names and addresses of all new members for that year.

One of the newest members of the club is Mrs. Robert Hutton, Maple Gardens, who moved here from New York state.

She stated that one of the first things that impressed her in Pottstown was the friendliness of the people.

Mrs. Hutton was formerly president of the Newcomers club in Burn, N. Y.

Outgoing officers of the club are: Mrs. William Derry, president; Mrs. Fred Selby, vice president; Mrs. Vincio Fisher, secretary, and Mrs. Donald Kiehn, treasurer.

Each one of the old officers was presented with a gift in appreciation of the work that they did.

Committee chairman and co-chairman for this year were announced as:

From left, they are Mrs. Donald Foust, treasurer; Mrs. James Taxler, president; Mrs. William Leiser, vice president, and Mrs. Paul McGee, secretary. The new president holds the club's ceremonial white candle from which new officers light their smaller tapers during the service. Conducting the installation was outgoing president Mrs. William Derry. She, like the other past officers, received gifts from the club during the affair. Dancing followed a turkey dinner and more than 125 Newcomers and husbands were present. Tables were decorated with vases of Spring flowers and lighted blue tapers.

CURTAIN CALL—Back on stage to make their bows after performing in the skit "Be Alert." are a pair of puppets who entertained members of the Busy Bee 4-H club at their meeting. They are held by their creators, manipulators and voice-suppliers, from left, Surrey Stauffer and Barbara Hertzell, both members of the 4-H group. Surrey and Barbara also made the stage on which their figures performed. Health and grooming took up the balance of the meeting, and members made plans for nature study and homemade knapsacks.

Busy Bee 4-H Club Watches "Be Alert" Starring Pair of Puppets Created by Two Members, Surrey Stauffer and Barbara Hertzell

Two 4-H girls produced a pair of small friends to entertain the Busy Bee club in Sunnyside this week.

Of the "show and tell" variety, the puppet show featured a dust of characters created by Surrey Stauffer and Barbara Hertzell.

One of the puppets was feminine with long, blond hair and a shiny skirt. She wore a bow in her curls.

Her partner, a masculine twin, wore trousers of the same shiny goods and a small skull cap. His chief claim to fame was an oversized mouth.

Hand puppets, the two actors scampered and capered about a stage also made by Surrey and Barbara. It was made with 4-H clover-adorned side wings and curtains.

Surrey and Barbara manipulated their puppets and spoke their lines during the skit entitled "Be Alert."

During the meeting, 4-H members worked on memo booklets and checked their health charts.

For a special project during the summer, the girls chose nature studies.

Each member was given a pattern and material, from which they will make knapsacks by the next meeting, June 22, at 6 p. m.

Winners of the good grooming contest were announced and four members were cited.

Surrey Stauffer took the title for the nicest finger nails, and Barbara Brode's hair was adjudged the best groomed.

For the overall appearance, Esther Rodenberger was selected, and Jeanette Houck's posture won her the prize in the fourth division.

Several of the girls told sister members that they planned to attend camp during the summer months.

Surrey Stauffer, Barbara Brode, Patty Rodenberger, Esther Rodenberger, Anita Walker and Barbara Hertzell are the prospective tenters.

Stella Short, county 4-H club supervisor, was a special guest at the meeting.

Members present included: Surrey Stauffer, Sandra Groff, Barbara Brode, Barbara Hertzell, Jeanette Houck, Patty Rodenberger, Esther Rodenberger and Anita Walker.

Leaders of the group who attended the meeting are Mrs. Kenneth Hertzell, Mrs. Marvin Stauffer and Mrs. Henry Groff.

Sara Ann Pike and J. E. Brady Repeat Vows

Before a palm banked altar, Sara Ann Pike and Jere Eugene Brady exchanged wedding vows in a double ring ceremony Saturday in St. Paul's Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pike, Elverson, are parents of the bride. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Brooke R. Brady, Searlets Mill.

Officiating at the service was the Rev. Eugene H. Snyder. An organ recital was given by Paul Francis Seidel. Patricia LaRue Ehrgood sang, "At Dawning," "Because," "I Love You Truly," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride approached the altar in a gown of white lace and in her hair and carried sprays, each of one dozen pink carnations. Ruth Evelyn Pike, sister of the bride, and Jessie Louise Heckman, cousin of the groom, also serving as bridesmaids, wore pink organdy over pink taffeta gowns, ballerina length.

In their hair were pink flowers, and they carried sprays of yellow carnations.

J. Richard Long served as best man. Ushers were Carl Andrew Burkhardt, Stanley Edgar Adams, Glenn Fultz and Calvin L. Beam.

Linda Kathleen Fleming and Judith Lynn Brady, groom's cousins, were flower girls, dressed in white organdy over yellow taffeta. They carried miniature baskets with mixed flowers.

Ring bearer was the groom's cousin, Samuel R. Long, with another cousin, Douglas Heckman, serving as altar boy.

Mrs. Pike wore a dress of navy blue crepe, and a corsage of pink carnations. Yellow daisies set off the orchid print taffeta dress worn by the groom's mother.

Zverr's hall was the scene of the reception held for 350 persons after the ceremony.

New York city was the couple's destination for a honeymoon. They will spend the Summer in the Pocono mountains where Jere has an appointment as camp art director.

Sara was graduated from Caernarvon High school, and worked as a clerk in the Birdsboro Steel Foundry office.

Her husband is a graduate of Birdsboro High school and Kutztown State Teachers college. He has recently been elected to the faculty of Swatara township as art supervisor.

Athena then introduces scenes showing how a life's dream can become an actuality.

Pan returns the youngsters, who receive their passports that will let them pass through the portals that lead to manhood and womanhood.

Opening processionals was the entire pageant chorus of over 160 boys and girls. Judy Noble read the prayer.

Scenes in the pageant were, "Unveiling the Statue," "Before the Portals," "A Dream of Service," "A Dream of Freedom," "A Dream of Melody," "A Dream of Faith" and "Through the Portals."

Bride's parents are the Rev. and Mrs. Howard H. Stortz, Nicaragua, Central America. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Howells, Kulpmont.

Performed before a background of palms, white flowers and candles, the double ring ceremony was conducted by the Rev. Walter H. Allen and the Rev. Howard H. Stortz.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of heavy white taffeta with a seed pearl embroidered yoke, fashioned with long sleeves, fitted bodice and a full skirt ending in a train.

Her fingertip-length veil was edged with imported lace and fell from a half-crown of seed pearls and rhinestones.

She carried a shower bouquet of white chrysanthemums with an orchid center.

Bridesmaids were Barbara Allen and Janet Wood. The groom's gown was white embroidered organza over aqua with a wide aqua sash. She carried Spring flowers and had a band in her hair.

Janet wore white embroidered organza over yellow with a yellow sash and a bouquet of Spring flowers and a hair band of the same.

Mrs. Stortz wore a gown of powder blue with a white hat and accessories, while the bridegroom's mother chose pink crepe with which she wore navy blue accessories. They had orchid corsages.

A reception attended by about 150 guests was held in the Christian Education building of the Central Moravian church, following the ceremony.

For a week's trip to the Pocono mountains, the bride wore a pink sharkskin suit with white lace hat and white shoes.

Upon their return, they will reside in the Lutheran parsonage at Kimberton.

Graduated from Salem college at Winston-Salem, N. C., the bride is employed as a technician at the Temple university hospital in Philadelphia.

Eden's Condition Is 'Satisfactory'

BOSTON, June 10 (AP)—British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden underwent surgery at New England Baptist hospital today to ease an obstruction in the main bile duct and doctors said his post-operative condition is satisfactory.

Dr. Richard B. Cattell of the Lahey clinic staff performed the operation with the assistance of Dr. Frank Lahey, founder of the clinic.

A bulletin issued tonight over the two doctors' signatures said that "Mr. Eden has responded well from anesthesia. He is reasonably comfortable and his general condition is satisfactory."

An earlier bulletin said inflammation due to previous bile accumulations had subsided considerably.

President Flies to North Dakota After Minneapolis Speech

MINOT, N. D., June 10 (AP)—President Eisenhower arrived here by plane tonight from Minneapolis, where he delivered a major address this afternoon. The presidential plane, Columbine, landed at 7:59 p. m. (Pottstown time) after a two-hour flight.

The President was to stay here overnight, then go on Thursday to nearby Garrison dam and to Mount Rushmore, near Rapid City, S. D., for two more speeches.

The President was greeted in this staunchly Republican state by a large crowd. People lined the streets all the way from the airport to the hotel where Eisenhower was to spend the night.

On hand to welcome the President were Gov. Norman Brunsdale, other North Dakota GOP leaders, and five Indians dressed in tribal costume.

At his hotel, Eisenhower had dinner with six North Dakota Republican leaders.

THIS WAS THE President's second visit to North Dakota in less than a year. He made a major speech at Fargo during his election campaign and whistle-stopped through the State.

Speaking in Minneapolis Eisenhower declared as South Koreans continued to oppose the impending armistice—that "all free nations must stand together or they shall fall separately."

Again rejecting "go it alone" philosophy, the President said free world unity against Communist aggression "means compromise—always within a clearly defined, clearly understood framework of principle."

He did not refer specifically to South Korean opposition to the proposed truce—to President Syngman Rhee's demands for political union of North and South Korea and for evacuation of the North by the Chinese Communists.

But Eisenhower, addressing the convention of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce, seemed to be directing his remarks—in part, at least—to the South Koreans.

EISENHOWER FLEW from Washington today on a five-day trip which will take him also into South Dakota, New Hampshire and New York for a series of speeches before returning to the White House Sunday night.

In his address today at Minneapolis auditorium the President also:

1. Stoutly defending the Administration's program for cutting military spending. Con-

trating on the proposed Air Force cutback of about five billion dollars, the President said the plan means "fewer planes in theory, more planes in fact — more swiftly and less expensively."

Without citing by name any of the critics of the plan — such as Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Air Force chief of staff, Eisenhower declared in an obvious reference to atomic weapons:

"WE ARE LIVING in a time of revolution in military science. Today 25 aircraft equipped with modern weapons can — in single attack — visit upon an enemy as much explosive violence as was hurled at Germany by our entire air effort throughout four years of World War II."

2. Spoke out again against critics of the United Nations — like Senator Taft — who have contended the UN is ineffective as a world peace instrument.

The Ohio Senator recently said this country might as well forget the United Nations so far as the Korean War is concerned. In a later clarifying statement, Taft said he had not proposed that the United States "go it alone." He called for a Pacific alliance similar to the European defense organization.

Eisenhower, who rejected any thought of going it alone after Taft first spoke out, said today:

"WE ALL HEAR a good deal of unhappy murmuring about the United Nations. It is easy to understand the dismay of many. None of us is above irritation and frustration over the seemingly vain and tedious processes of political discourse in times of great crisis."

"But none of us can rightly forget that neither the world — nor the United Nations — is or can be made in a single image of one nation's will or idea. The fact is that from its foundation the United Nations has seemed to be two distinct things to the two worlds divided by the Iron Curtain."

"To the Communist world it has seemed a convenient sounding board for their propaganda, a weapon to be exploited in spreading disunity and confusion."

"To the free world it has seemed that it should be a constructive forum for free discussion of the world's problems, an effective agency for helping to solve those problems peacefully."

"THE TRUTH is that even if the United Nations were to conform to the concept held by the free nations, it would still be bound to show infinite variety of opinion, sharp clashes of debate, slow movement to decision."

At the start of his speech the President announced his theme—"The constant, controlling consideration in our national life. It is—our nation's security."

To win it, he added, calls for a constant struggle military, economic, political, scientific, intellectual and spiritual fronts.

Then he developed his views on military and economic strength, which he said are "truly one—and neither can be purchased at the price of destroying the other"—and on the idea of collective security. On that point, Eisenhower said:

"THIS NATION and all nations defending freedom, everywhere in the world, are one in their common need and their common cause—and none can sanely seek security alone."

As for those who ask "what does the United Nations matter?" Eisenhower gave an answer that possibly applied as well to South Korean opposition to the impending truce. He said:

"A total struggle—let us never forget it—calls for a total defense. As there is no weapon too small—no arena too remote—to be ignored, so there is no free nation too humble to be forgotten."

McCABE TO FOLLOW NEW PIAA RULINGS

Pottstown High basketball under Bill McCabe will not be de-emphasized - neither will it be over-emphasized.

The new Trojan basketball leader, by mutual agreement with the athletic council, will be a law abiding coach according to recent PIAA legislation. To follow the straight and narrow may put PHS's cage future slightly behind the eight-ball.

The State athletic ruling body is trying to curb the recent practice of many high schools to concentrate on basketball on a year-round basis. Basketball drills are not to begin before Nov. 1, says the PIAA. Coaches are not to engage in running organized games or leagues during the Summer, or at any other time, except during the regulation season.

McCabe told the athletic council he would follow the PIAA law. He warned that the law had loopholes, and that many schools are taking advantage of them. To this the AC bosses agreed they preferred to have Pottstown High play according to the rules rather than work for an all-powering team.

Therefore, McCabe will engage in no Summer basketball work, no intramural basketball tournament in the Fall, and practices for the regular season will begin Nov. 1.

SOME TOP cage powers are not so law abiding. Coaches there have found a detour to bypass the PIAA's efforts to make basketball a one-season sport. Under the guise of serving as athletic directors for recreation commissions, organized team play will be conducted by them.

When Ed Good conducted his Summer outdoor league the past Summer, the PIAA ruling had not yet gone into effect. It was perfectly legal at that time and Good was practically forced into the trend set by Coatesville and other big schools on the Trojans' schedule.

The extra practice during the Summer and through intramural leagues proves invaluable during the early part of the cage season. But the drawback is its effect on football.

THE REAL PRESSURE behind the new PIAA proclamation came from football coaches. Too many boys felt they had to stay with the basketball crowd all the way if they were to make the team. That meant more than a few of the potentially good football players ignored the Fall sport to keep up with their court studies.

McCabe, who is also an assistant football coach, is sympathetic with the grid problem and will have as many of his basketballers playing football as possible. That is just about everybody.

During the overlapping November month, McCabe will serve double-duty. In the afternoon he will assist Heeb Meyers on Franklin field, and in the evenings he will work with the few basketball players who are not on the football team.

Fortunately the PIAA has said nothing that forbids basketball coaches to think or dream about sliding zones and 20-point scorers during any season of the year.

The sun beamed down with 90 degree intensity and the site was Brookside Country club, but McCabe's mind constantly switched from three-foot putts to 10-foot push shots.

WHILE WE WALKED and sliced and analyzed our double bogeys, the topic of basketball drifted in and out of the conversation.

"I don't mind losing Dave Ricketts. That is to be expected - graduation can't be helped. But I would hate to lose through scholastic difficulties, or other reasons, any of the scorers who will take Dave's place," he mused while lining up with his 'all-purpose' five iron in a sandtrap.

With true coaching pessimism, McCabe talked about "lucky to beat Berwyn next season."

The loss of four of the five starters last year - Ricketts, Mike Krickzy, Doug Moser and Bob Sutton - certainly leaves the new mentor with his share of gaps to fill.

His championship jayvee squad moves into its junior year and from it some varsity material will be extracted.

Much depends on Al Bodulus. Although no Ricketts on all-around ability, the slim Sophomore showed enough explosive scoring power to mark him as Dave's successor in that department.

Howie Bedell is the lone first-stringer back in the fold. His biggest burden will be rebounding, and with a little jumping room he can get up with the best of them. Bedell will also have to be a consistent scorer if the team is to stay in the C-M title race.

PROBABLY THE BEST newcomer will be Ron Cheney. As Ricketts sub the past season, Cheney seldom did anything but watch from the bench. But in his brief appearances he showed up to be a scrapper and a good ball handler.

Driving Dick Kovach is the only other varsity performer back. Bill Kerr, Mac Shirey, Josh Sova, Milt Wensel and Carl Sundstrom along with Bodulus formed the sparking JV crew. They all will be in the running for plenty of work.

Other possible candidates are Bob Gray who moved to the varsity as a Sophomore but saw little action, and possibly Paul Zirkel, the bouncing Junior High player who has the size for high school ball.

McCabe will play mental checkers with his young athletes all Summer and Fall, but he can't make a physical move until Nov. 1. Then he ventures into the deep water portion of a coaching career that has been highly successful for a decade.

Coventry Brethren Rallies Late to Beat Transfiguration

With typhoons being the most newsworthy topic of the day, Coventry Brethren stirred up a six-run breeze in the sixth inning last night to defeat Transfiguration, 9-4.

When the big outburst occurred, Coventry was trailing 4-1. Just to make sure of the victory, CB added two more in the seventh to gain the Sunday School league win.

Bill Jones was the victim of the rally. He had allowed only six hits up to that point, but in the sixth Coventry put together four hits, three walks and took advantage of three errors.

Gordon Wampler started the fracas when shortstop Wils Bedell was charged with a throwing error. Wampler went to second on the play and after Dick Goss walked, Ron Domin slashed a solid single to left scoring Wampler.

Bob Grey in left field, let the hit get away from him and the runners reached second and third. Bob Swavely was walked by Jones to load the bases. Dave Clemens also waited for four balls, and Goss was forced in with the second run of the inning.

DOMIN THEN scored on Pete Lang's single to right, and on a squeeze play that Dick Wampler beat out for a hit, Swavely was plated.

A slow roller to short by Wampler, up for the second time, drove in Clemens, and Lang scored as Goss drilled a single through the middle.

Transfig scored three runs in the first inning without the benefit of a hit.

Bedell opened with a walk, stole and took third when the catchers throw was wild.

Moser grounded to Gordon Wampler at first and he threw home too late to nab Bedell. Bruce and Hal Bauer both drew walks and they advanced a base on Swavely's balk. They both scored when Dan Wolf erred on Jones' grounder.

SWAVELY WAS still wild, walking both Ed Gible and Dick Seidel. Domin came in to pitch at this point and finished out the game as he gave up only four hits and one run.

Jones struckout 16 Coventry batters but he gave up 10 hits and walked nine to remain in hot water most of the way.

Wampler had a big night in the field. He fielded eight grounders without a miscue for an assist on each occasion. He also backed up Colasanti on a high bounce and outran the batter for a putout. He had four putouts giving him a perfect fielding average on 12 chances.

HOOK MADE the best play of the night on a hard shot hit by Colasanti into the third-short hole. Merrill scooped up the grounder, did a little balancing jig and then rifled a throw to Gresh to nab Nick by a step.

That was the only time Dennis did get Mull out, however. In the second inning, Jim drilled a clean single to left. But Bob Fillman, next up, lined to Wiley at third and Mull was easily doubled up at first.

Mull opened the sixth with his second hit, another liner to left that Pollick held to a double with a diving stop. Fillman bounced to deep short and beat the throw as Mull advanced to third.

Marv Yoder was sent in to pinchhit for Sandoe. He hit a bouncer to Wayock and Stan seeing he had no play at home, threw out Yoder at first. Mull scored the play to complete the run-making for the night.

Mull opened the sixth with his second hit, another liner to left that Pollick held to a double with a diving stop. Fillman bounced to deep short and beat the throw as Mull advanced to third.

Marv Yoder was sent in to pinchhit for Sandoe. He hit a bouncer to Wayock and Stan seeing he had no play at home, threw out Yoder at first. Mull scored the play to complete the run-making for the night.

Wayock had a big night in the field. He fielded eight grounders without a miscue for an assist on each occasion. He also backed up Colasanti on a high bounce and outran the batter for a putout. He had four putouts giving him a perfect fielding average on 12 chances.

HOOK MADE the best play of the night on a hard shot hit by Colasanti into the third-short hole. Merrill scooped up the grounder, did a little balancing jig and then rifled a throw to Gresh to nab Nick by a step.

That was the only time Dennis did get Mull out, however. In the second inning, Jim drilled a clean single to left. But Bob Fillman, next up, lined to Wiley at third and Mull was easily doubled up at first.

Dodgers' 13 Hits Bomb Redlegs, 13-3; Roe Gains Victory

BROOKLYN, June 10 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers won a 13-3 victory against the Cincinnati Redlegs tonight for a 13-3 victory as they kept up their chase after the league leading Milwaukee Braves.

The triumph left the Dodgers a game back of the Braves.

Brooklyn jumped away to a three run lead only to have Cincinnati catch up in the sixth on a two run homer by Gus Bell, his 14th of the year, and a bases-empty blast by Bob Borkowski.

Brooklyn was back in front before a man was retired in the last of the sixth. Bobby Morgan opened with a double and scored the tie-breaking run on pinch hitter Wayne Belardi's triple. Duke Snider contributed a homer in the same inning and then the Dodgers ended all doubts with seven runs in the eighth.

Preacher Roe, who worked the first six innings, was the winner, with Joe Mauer finishing up. The victory was Roe's third. Herm Wehrmeister took the loss although he was back in the dressing room when the runs started coming in bunches in the eighth.

NICE SHOT FOR ANY GOLFER—Designed for those golfers who want to play the "19th hole" before they get there, this driver-like club carries a set of small glasses in the club head and a beverage. It's the invention of Emmanuel Merahn, a King Features Syndicate artist, and it looks like just the thing to use when you get in a sand trap.

Garcia Gives 4 Hits; Indians Win, 2-1

CLEVELAND, June 10 (AP)—Big Mike Garcia doled out only four hits tonight while pitching the Cleveland Indians to a 2-1 victory over the Washington Senators. It was the Tribe's seventh straight victory.

Harry Simpson's fourth home run of the season gave the Indians their victory margin in the fourth.

Hank Foiles got his first hit for Cleveland in the third and scored on Garcia's sacrifice and a single by Bobby Avila. Foiles, Cleveland's third string catcher, was obtained this season from Cincinnati.

Eddie Yost tripled in the eighth and scored Washington's only run when Bill Glynn fumbled Wayne Terwilliger's grounder.

It was Garcia's seventh victory against Sonny Dixon. The loser was starter Sonny Dixon.

By extending their longest winning streak of the season, the Indians kept within 5 1/2 games of the league-leading New York Yankees. The Indians got a double, two singles and a walk in the sixth but failed to score.

Phils Win 2 From Cubs, 9-1; 8-5

B32 vyrybyzyy rs1116p 10
BULLETIN 1st LEAD National PHILADELPHIA, June 10 (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies picked up four runs in the first inning with the help of homers by Connie Ryan and Del Ennis, then staved off a late Chicago surge to defeat the Cubs 8-5 in the nightcap of a two-night twin bill tonight. The Phils' Robin Roberts chalked up his 10th win of the season in hurling a 9-1 seven-hit victory in the opener.

The two wins gave the Phils a sweep of the Chicago series and ran their victory streak to four games.

In the big first inning of the second game, Connie Ryan led off with a homer. Richie Ashburn walked and scored ahead of Del Ennis as the big outfielder also homered, his 10th of the season. Earl Torgeson tripled and scored the fourth run on Gran Hamner's grounder.

Ransom Jackson gave the Cubs their first run in the second with a clout into the upper leftfield stands.

Morning Workout Pays Off As Cards Beat Pittsburgh, 5-1

PITTSBURGH, June 10 (AP)—Manager Eddie Stanky put his St. Louis Cardinals through a stiff morning workout and the Cards responded tonight with a 5-1 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

A couple of old pros—Enos Slaughter and Stan Musial—led the attack. Slaughter had four hits in as many trips, a double and three singles. Musial smashed a double and single in three attempts.

Joe Presko received credit for his fourth victory against five defeats. He gave up but four hits, including a home run to Frank Thomas to account for the Pirates' lone run, until the eighth when he was reached for two consecutive singles to open the inning. Hal White came on to stop the rally.

Gavilan Uses Bolo To Beat Scortichini

DETROIT, June 10 (AP)—Weltered champion Kid Gavilan, firing his pet bolo punch at will, won a unanimous 10-round decision over rugged but outclassed Scortichini of Milan, Italy, tonight at Olympia Stadium.

Gavilan weighed 151 1/2 to 135 for Scortichini in the non-title bout.

Although Gavilan won easily, he found his younger opponent a tough customer.

The flashy champion pressed the attack from the start to finish but couldn't put across a knockout blow. Scortichini, son of an Italian shoemaker, refused to give ground to the swift-punching Cuban—but he had no offense that was even close to matching Gavilan's.

Gavilan, who dropped his last Bang Bang Womber, made certain that wouldn't happen again tonight. Fighting with dead-panned seriousness, as if he prized crown were in jeopardy, Gavily flailed away at his stubby foe.

HE JOLTED and jolted him with full bolos, semi bolos and right-left combinations. But he couldn't bully Scortichini. The 24-year-old Italian was too strong for that.

All three officials were impressed with Gavilan's showing. Referee Clarence Rosen had the Havana shoo Hawk on top, 58 points to 42. Judge Al Goodman had it 60-40 while Jack Aspermy, the other judge, saw it 57-43.

Injuries Mount Ex-Marine Tops National Open Qualifiers With 138

OAKMONT, June 10 (AP)—A muscled ex-Marine sergeant, Jimmy Clark of Laguna Beach, Calif., clinched the qualifying medal in the National Open golf tournament with a record early under-par 66 at Oakmont early today and then sat back to watch a wave of injuries and blowups killed off the big name stars.

The 32-year-old Clark, who says he has barely made expenses on the tournament circuit this year, finished with a 36-hole total of 138. He had a 72 at the Pittsburgh Field club yesterday.

Only Dr. Cary Middlecott, the gangling Memphis dentist, came close to catching the Californian as the long day progressed under alternately cloudy and sunny skies.

The doctor, 1949 Open champion, toured the tight Pittsburgh field club course in seven par 71 for a total of 140, two strokes back. Middlecott had a 69 yesterday at Oakmont, one of the opening day's five sub-par rounds.

Par for the 6916-yard Oakmont course is 73-35-72. The field club with its skinny fairways and tire-some hills, is 6712 yards long and has a par of 36-35-71. Two courses were used to reduce the field from 299 to 119 and ties for the 72-hole championship proper, beginning tomorrow.

Ford Legion to Play

Dennis Slough will be on the mound for Royersford Legion Juniors tonight when they play Souderton in a Montgomery League game. The 'Fords have lost their first two starts to Narberth and North Wales and will be counting on their new hurler from King Manor to break the ice.

The late Franklin D. Roosevelt hurried more opening day pitches than any US president. Roosevelt tossed out the first ball eight times.

End Losing Streak

A's Defeat Chisox, 2-1

CHICAGO, June 10 (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics today snapped a five-game losing streak with a 2-1 verdict over the Chicago White Sox as Harry Byrd white-washed the hose after the first.

Byrd notched his second victory over the White Sox with the same score and his fifth triumph against six defeats. But he needed help from lefty Morris Martin in the ninth.

Loser Sandy Consuegra, who left for a pinch hitter in the seventh, failed in his first start of the season after seven relief assignments.

The lone White Sox run came in the first inning on three of the nine hits culled off Byrd. With two out, Minnie Minoso and Sam Mele singled and Jim Rivera doubled to score Minoso.

The A's picked up one run in the second on Pete Suder's single, Cass Michaels' double and Ed McGhee's fly to center.

The deciding Philadelphia marker came in the fourth, again after two were out. After Michaels and McGhee, both White Sox alumni, had singled, Joe Astroth beat out a single behind second, scoring Michaels.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

WHEN BOBBIE FELLER first came up with the Cleveland Indians, he whizzed the ball into the plate with such terrific speed it hit but tore right through the catcher's mitt. Furthermore, there was no telling just where and what that cannonball was going to hit. Bobbie's hard ball looked like a hot potato to the batters... The St. Louis Cardinals played an exhibition game with the Indians that spring. "Fordham Frankie" Frisch was the Cards' manager and still playing plenty of second base for them. After watching Rapid Robert warm up, however, Frankie walked over to a raw-boned rookie and asked, "Son, have you ever played second base?" "No, sir," answered the youth. "Well, get your glove," said the Fordham Flash heading for the safety of the dugout. "You're playing it today!"

Milan Workers Rush To Finish Skyscraper

MILAN, June 10 (AP)—Workers idle for a month, have rushed back to the job of completing Milan's skyscraper—whose 114 meters and 29 stories will, it is believed, make it the tallest building in Europe and second highest steel-reinforced concrete building in the world.

The delay was due to tradition rather than law. The tallest spire of Milan's historic Duomo—the city cathedral—reaches 108.5 meters. Custom has had it that no building in the city may surpass the cathedral.

It took a special resolution of city council to approve continuing Milan's newest skyscraper business building beyond that height.

NEW YORK, June 10 (AP)—A man described by the Secret Service as a dangerous "proving maniac" was trapped and seized today, for allegedly addressing assassination threats to President Eisenhower, as he had previously to Presidents Roosevelt and Truman.

He identified himself as Albert J. Drevney, 10, originally from Denver.

He was arrested north of New York in New Rochelle when he walked into a trap in the climax to a Nation-wide hunt.

Old Pay Telephones Took Silver Dollars

DALLAS, Tex., June 10 (AP)—What would you say if you found a telephone in a leading hotel that had bright nickel-plated slots for nickels, dimes, quarters, half dollars and silver dollars? Here's what S. Bert Hardin, 74, said: "That's a 1912 model magneto-powered coin telephone—the first coin 'phone ever built."

Hardin went to work for the telephone company here March 20, 1900, when Dallas had 2450 telephones. Today there are 270,154 within the city limits.

Hardin and other old timers met recently in the 30th annual convention of the Telephone Pioneers of America's Lone Star chapter.

The first coin 'phone was on exhibit. "Cost about five times as much to call in those days," Hardin said.

Iran, Russia Sign New Trade Pact

TEHERAN, Iran, June 10 (AP)—Iran today signed a revised trade agreement with Russia.

Dr. Ali Akbar Khatami, minister of national economy, said it is expected to double the trade exchange between the two countries. It would make Russia Iran's best customer.

Teheran newspapers reported the new agreement will permit direct contact between Russian trade representatives and Iranian merchants. Presumably Soviet trade officials will be free to travel and negotiate deals.

In the year ended March 20, Russia sold Iran 23 million dollars worth of goods, chiefly sugar, cloth and tableware. Iran sold Russia almost exactly the same value of tobacco, rice and cotton.

Iran has not yet sold any of its nationalized oil to Russia or any other Soviet satellite.

Oldman River Rises, Shuts Power Plant

LETHBRIDGE, Alta, June 10 (AP)—The most devastating flood in the history of this Southwestern Alberta city reached its peak early today shutting down the city's electric power plant and cutting drinking water supplies to less than half of normal.

The Oldman river, swollen by week-long rains, reached flood crests which forced 150 persons from their river side homes and halted highway traffic in some areas.

The city's power plant was put out of action shortly after midnight when seepage water boiled up through the floor of the basement, flooding electrical and water pumps.

Westminster Abbey Doubles as Theater

LONDON, June 10 (AP)—Westminster abbey, where the Queen was crowned eight days ago, became a drama theater tonight and for the first time in its 700-year history a professional play was presented there.

Long queues of theater-goers quickly bought out the 1600 seats installed some time ago for the coronation. The raised platform on which the Queen was enthroned and crowned, serves as the stage.

The play, "Out of the Whirlwind," will be presented nightly except Saturdays and Sunday until July 3. Tickets range in price from five shillings (70 cents) to 30 shillings ($4.20) and part of the proceeds will go toward the abbey's one million pound ($2,800,000) restoration fund.

Bishop Will Appear Before Red Probe

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—The House Un-American activities committee today granted a request by Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam for an opportunity to appear at a formal hearing.

Chairman Velde (R-Ill.) announced that July 21 was suggested as a convenient date.

He added that the date was chosen because the Bishop plans a vacation and trip abroad and an earlier date would be inconvenient.

The action was taken in a closed-door meeting in which the committee also decided:

To revise and bring up-to-date its publication, "guide to subversive organizations and publications," and to schedule hearings later at San Francisco and Detroit.

The group, Velde reported, also discussed plans for subcommittee hearings next week at Columbus, Ohio, and next month at Albany, N. Y.

Catastrophies Drain Red Cross Budget

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—The American Red Cross said today that aid provided in the recent series of floods and tornadoes has virtually wiped out its entire disaster budget for the current fiscal year.

Appealing to the Nation for new contributions, Red Cross President E. Roland Harriman said in a statement:

"The past two months have been among the most destructive and costly in Red Cross disaster experience. Since April 18 there have been 14 major disaster operations.

"We will need the full support of the American people to help those who have suffered personal loss in these catastrophes to help themselves."

The group, Velde reported, also discussed plans for subcommittee hearings next week at Columbus, Ohio, and next month at Albany, N. Y.

GROUP SINGING OPENS MEETING

Community Grange Starts Activities With Song

With the singing of the "Old Folks at Home," members of Community Grange 1712, of New Hanover, opened its meeting last night at the Grange hall.

Presiding during the session was Worthy Master Willis Hetrick. Scripture and prayer was read by Chaplain Mrs. Mildred Fulmer.

A report of the flower committee was made by Mrs. Dorothy Geisler, Mrs. Dorothy Moyer and Mrs. Edna Hartline. During the literary program, Mrs. Sarah Acker took charge in the absence of Mrs. Beatrice Smale. Mrs. Hetrick read a number of household hints, while Mrs. Moyer gave a reading, "We Learned to Live About Mother's Big Table."

ROGER MOYER JR. delivered a recitation and Carol Fulmer sang a solo with her mother, accompanying. This was followed by a cornet solo by Richard Steltz. Another reading, "My Mule and I Don't Think Alike," was presented by Mrs. Acker.

The program was rounded out by Frank Fulmer who sang a solo. He was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Fulmer. Charles Rankin of the Parent-Teachers association thanked the Grange for the use of the hall during the past school year.

Herbert Wagner reported 25 members present at the meeting.

THURSDAY, JUNE 11, 1933

Empires dissolve and peoples disappear, song passes not away.—William Watson.

They Also Triumphed

HIGH school graduates all over the Pottstown area are receiving praise and kudos these days as they complete their courses at a higher institution of learning and go on into life—some to even higher institutions, others to jobs and chosen professions.

But there are countless others who by dint of hard work have succeeded in completing the work of a single grade and are promoted to a higher grade.

These too are entitled to praise. They have succeeded in reaping where they have set their hand to the plow. They have done their work well and are qualified to advance.

Pottstown Junior High school paid homage to 353 of these pupils, who have finished their work at the North Franklin street institution and move on to more difficult fields. Most of them are about to take up their studies in senior high schools. Others will go elsewhere, some to The Hill school.

These 353 had their own day of reckoning the other night when they all were formally promoted and some were singled out for individual awards and honors.

So to these unsung heroes who have done their jobs well praise and glory.

Big Shoes to Fill

BILL McCabe and Morrie Grigg have been squeezed into the athletic coaching shoes just stepped out of by Ed Good.

Ed was basketball and baseball mentor at Pottstown high school. He now is going to direct all his attentions to the duties of athletic director.

A quick look at the records is enough to show that both Trojan basketball and baseball teams covered themselves with glory.

Bill, who takes over the basketball helm, and Morrie, who will guide the baseball destiny, probably will find themselves dazzled by the shining records Ed hung up.

But both new coaches, who are well identified with Pottstown high athletic activities, are equal to the assignment and undoubtedly will follow along in traditional Ed Good style.

Our heartfelt wishes for their success and the success of their Trojan teams are extended.

May the palms of victory wave over them for many years to come.

It Pays to Advertise

MANY a farmer—and city folks too—knows he can get full value for his money at Sears Roebuck. That means high quality and low outlay. And that means the thinnest possible margin of profit.

And so it was revealing to learn that this one merchandising concern spent $34,000.000 for newspaper advertising. Sears on its thin profit margin can't waste a penny on operation. Yet it spent a third of a billion on newspaper advertising.

If newspaper advertising is good for Sears, it's good for other merchants, who well can take a leaf from Sears' record of success in newspaper advertising.

Give the Devil His Due

THERE is in this country a tendency to look on the Chinese Communist army as a primitive, armed mob, ignorant of tactics and able to achieve only through callous waste of human life. This illusion, instead of causing people to wonder how such a peasant army could fight our modern force to a virtual standstill, seems instead to lead to the dangerous conclusion that we have won the war in Korea and can dictate terms.

The flare-up along the battle front at last week's end ought to disillusion those who hold such views.

Careful reading of the dispatches reveals no ragtag-bobtail "human wave" assault.

If the Communists had been able to throw tactical air support into the fray, our forces might have had to give up more ground than they did.

A curious juxtaposition of cliches in front-line dispatches perhaps reveals part of the reason behind our tendency to underestimate the Chinese enemy. One passage referred to "fiercely resisting" American and Turkish infantrymen fighting to hold a key position.

Another paragraph, however, describing a similar fight by Chinese Red infantrymen to hold a hill declared they "fought fanatically" to keep their position.

It is important for us not to lose sight of the tough quality of the enemy facing us, particularly now when we must consider the alternatives facing us if the truce talks break down.

Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see whar a Pottstown feller caught a balloon fish that blows up to the size of a basketball and he wants to give it to a museum. Instead why don't he make it smell proof and put it in Pottstown High's trophy closet?

'N' I see whar a four-legged chick was born on a Canadian farm. Well, that little feller should get quite a kick out of life.

I don't see why they don't have a mosquito census round here this Summer. Then we'd know just how much scratchin' we'll have to do. Or are the census takers afraid they'd get slapped?

Hopin' you air the same.

What's the Deal?

To the Editor: What ever became of the junk lot deal? Nothing as usual, I suppose.

But I see where council has cut their own throats by legislating a law requiring residents to clean up their lots. My, how brave and bold our city fathers are! Ha! I wonder if this law covers politicians also.

Seems to me I can still recall what a scholar once said about politicians, both little and big. He said: "To go to Heaven, one must never indulge in politics." In other words boys, I guess you know where you are headed.

Lauds Monument

To the Editor: There was a good idea they had in Lower Pottsgrove—honoring soldiers of all wars with a single monument.

The memorial they have erected is not elaborate or pretentious. It simply expresses a heart-felt appreciation with its honest brown stones and neat bronze plaque.

To me it is much more effective than statues that misrepresent the heroes they attempt to recreate or gaudy piles of polished granite that attempt to impress the observer with their costliness.

Pottstown would do well to follow the neighboring township's plan when it gets around to honoring its forgotten war heroes.

WASHINGTON Army Engineers Lobby Defeated on Dam Issue

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The Army Engineers corps, which has long been the most powerful and free-spending lobby on Capitol Hill, recently suffered a stunning reverse in the House because of growing popular revulsion against their high-handed tactics. The defeat also reflects a reaction against cluttering the Nation's countryside with expensive and monumental dams without proper justification.

The controversy involved the construction of the Garrison dam in Western North Dakota, which is one of six great structures designed to harness the unruly Missouri River, to irrigate arid land and to generate power. It was a major Roosevelt-Truman project, and has had general approval in this section.

But the uproar came when the Army Engineers, allegedly without Congressional authorization, decided to raise the height of the dam from 1830 to 1950 feet. Again without legal authority or funds, they began to buy up farm lands to be flooded by the enlarged Garrison reservoir, and to make surveys for protective dikes around adjacent acres, the city of Williston and the roadbed of the transcontinental Great Northern Railroad.

ECONOMY ATTEMPTS DEFIED: The military's allegedly illegal action is described as typical by Congressional critics. Although it had neither legal power nor funds for its land purchases and surveys, congress has rarely denied the Engineers' requests, even though they be retroactive.

As they had anticipated, the sum of $4,000,000 to finance the already advanced project was included in the War Department's Civil Functions bill, when it was introduced in the House several days ago.

But both the military and the complacent politicians had reckoned without Representative Usher L. Burick of Williston. A member of the Nonpartisan league, this Indian-speaking historian of the Sioux tribe and former Big Ten football star is one of the most respected members of the lower body.

AUTOCRATIC ACTIONS: The 73-year-old pioneer of the plains charged that the Engineers had heightened the dam's elevation, thereby increasing costs and the areas to be submerged, without Congressional legislation or hearings. Their unauthorized revision would drown out three existing irrigation systems and an additional 90,000 acres. It would also deprive Williston, bustling center of a vast new oil boom in the surrounding region, of all railroad connections.

"The military enter a farmer's house while he and his family are at supper," according to local complaints. "They announce: 'We have condemned your land. You'll have to sell it to us, but we'll let you rent it from us until you get in this year's crops. Then, you'll have to get out!'"

When Burdick's opposition was attributed to personal interest, based on his ownership of an 890-acre ranch in the bottom lands marked for submersion, he explained his position. He said he had agreed to lease his land for the legal $1 consideration, but was told he would have to sell. He was offered such a generous payment, he added, that he "could afford to retire on it." But he rejected the offer because he would "not sell out my neighbors."

The $4,000,000 appropriation was knocked out of the bill by a 240-1 voice vote.

Hails Union Results

To the Editor: I think the recent union elections at the Firestone, Doehler and Amalgamated 644 locals indicated a new and better trend in the operation and direction of Pottstown unionism.

At both the Doehler and Firestone elections balloting was extremely heavy, especially at the Doehler local, one of the steady union groups in the borough.

At the election of Amalgamated Local 644, the bulk of which is made up by the Spicer shop and production unit, balloting was good when you consider the election was held outside the plant.

In all three elections the man in the plant showed enough interest to come and vote.

Our unions will grow stronger. Their leadership will be better and they will earn more public respect when a large majority of workers takes a serious interest in union affairs.

It is important that members vote. It is even more important that they attend meetings during the year and help establish the policy of their locals.

I certainly hope the trend continues in the borough.

To the Editor: I don't believe Taft and the President are so far apart as they think or seem to be. The Voice of Broadway

Hi'ya Stranger!

HOT ENOUGH FOR YOU?

For us, too. Why don't you come to New York when it's snowing?

But never mind. Most of our bistros are air-conditioned, and our movie palaces have icy breezes blowing through their rococo interiors, and our museums are so thickly marbled with it takes weeks for the heat to really penetrate. Once you get off the asphalt, it isn't so bad. At any rate, there's plenty to do and see!

You'll want to sample 3-D, of course, if your home town hasn't seen it yet—and Cinerama, if you can get a ticket.

We have both, plus movies of the Coronation on the same bill with the Rockettes at Radio City Music hall, and that's worth the price of admission even if they didn't show a picture.

And don't go back to Centerville, USA without seeing some live actors—Ralph Meeker in "Picnic," Gwen Verdon in "Can Can" and Melvin Douglas in "Time Out For Ginger" are especially recommended (the last-named being the safest ticket bet if Aunt Sarah is with you.)

And do experiment a little in the food department.

Of course we have donut shops and hot dog stands and ham-and-eggeries within strolling distance of your hotel, but don't stop there.

EXPERIMENT A LITTLE. Eat some Chinese dishes in the lacquered atmosphere of the Singapore (and ask the waiter for something more experimental than chow mein, you can get that at drug stores!) and some authentic Swedish food at a place like the Stockholm, and a few Armenian specialties at the Golden Horn.

Villanova isn't glamorous but it has wonderful Italian food, and so has Leone's, where you can see an assortment of expensive statues and even more expensive ball players at the same time.

When you go from place to place by taxi, talk to the drivers. You'll find they have lively opinions on the Dodgers, traffic, Bill O'Dwyer, babies, and the Lever Brothers building. You can learn a lot about our town from its uninhibited dauntless death-defying cabbies.

IF YOU'RE a girl-type visitor, treat yourself to a few hours in one of Fifth avenue's luxury beauty salons—the routine is something to tell the Garden Club ladies, the tab won't be as bad as you fear, and the luxury of having your toenails painted in all that pink and perfumed splendor is worth breaking the piggy bank, anyway. Tom can wait for you in the Men's bar at the Waldorf, and he won't feel a thing when you tell him how much.

HOLLYWOOD, June 10 — Few minutes after our last dispatch went out, Gilbert Roland, a suave Spaniard, was signed to be the suave Frenchman opposite Jane Russell in "French Line." Because Jean Pierre Aumont, sought for the role, decided to go on traveling. The Winnie-Bobo Rockefeller divorce will be a "rush" event. Then he'll marry Jeanette Eddis, confirming an item here of months ago! At the time, we mentioned Jeanette's Pa is big Northwestern racing circles. ... Eddie G. Robinson, John Forsythe and Barbara Rush start "The Glass Web" at Universal this week. Next on the agenda for Robinson is the Broadway musical, "Las Vegas" with Eddie Bracken co-starring. This is the show, tuned by Sam Coslow for which one-time movie star, Kay Francis is also being sought.

WIN, LOSE or draw, when Esperanza's next support suit against John Wayne comes up in October, this tamale can't win any popularity polls around these parts! Mebbe she figures she'll be the richest gal living in Mexico from here on in! Well-statted Dolores Hawkins, who did only fairly well singing at Ciro's the past year, comes west to screen test at Paramount pronto. As they say, "she takes a becomin'ful bow!" ... Natch, Bing Crosby is putting shelds of his own into the show, "Carnival in Flanders," about to prep for Broadway. Bing's best pal Jimmy Van Heusen, along with Johnny Burke are the most interested parties, as well as having composed its songs and lyrics. James and John are also responsible for most of Crosby's movie tunes for the past several years. Bing's been proving to Parisians he's still got that zing!

ELAINE STEWART's handsome actor escort is losing out to a VIP. Translation: Very important producer. The new romance we imagine, being more fiscal than physical. ... Robert Bray is the latest addition to the "Caine Mutiny" cast. He was at RKO for six years; more recently busy on TV. Gene Evans took his fiancée, Patti Powers up to Colton, Cal. to visit his Ma over the week end. Ma runs a grocery store there. ... Greer Carson, nothing daunted by the 104 degree heat, joined spouse, Buddy Fogelson in Dallas, Tex. ... Best news of the week concerns Nat "King" Cole's recovery to the point where he's booked for a stint at the Del Mar hotel at Santa Monica beach next month.

Florida Tryst...

Going Up, Up, Up...

★ SMALL WORLD DEPT.—Art Switzer, the Penney merchandising tycoon who is convalescing at Ormond Beach, Fla., and Sam Brown, fellow Kiwanian who operates the Pottstown Cement Block co. at Stowe, bumped into an ex-Pottsonian in Daytona Beach. He's Henry Johnson, a stone mason who went to school and learned his trade here. Johnson took his Pottstown visitors on a tour of his home which he designed and built himself and which has been proclaimed as a house as modern as the latest issue of a home and garden magazine.

★ QUITE A JACK of all trades, Johnson applied his skill as carpenter, architect, roofer and laborer. From the foundation up, the house took him eight months to finish in his spare time. The only construction that isn't his own was the electrical wiring and plumbing.

★ ELEGANT LAYOUT—The house is a one-floor rambling affair with a massive fireplace that is a masterpiece of stone masonry. It has three bedrooms, dining room and living room, finished in paneling of cypress, cedar and ponderosa pine, which Johnson feels are not bad examples of carpentry. But he's proudest of the living room, which, with the fireplace, angled ceiling and giant sectional window, was of his own design.

JOHNSON credits his wife, Mattie Mae, a native of Columbus, Ga., with many of the ideas for the interior planning and decoration. Johnson's father was a native of India and his mother of South America. How did Switzer and Brown meet up with Johnson? They saw an article on his home in the Daytona Beach newspaper.

★ AGREEABLE TO EXCEPTION—Karl Pacanovsky, head of the arts and crafts department at The Hill, had promised himself he would absolutely never go up in an airplane but he said yesterday that he hoped to make an exception to this rule. Pacanovsky has learned that the four exhibits entered by Hill boys in a recent industrial arts competition at Franklin institute, Philadelphia, all won first prizes. This makes them eligible for the national competition at Dearborn, Mich., and if they win this, they will win a $300 first prize and an expenses-paid airplane trip to Dearborn, with their instructor. "I've never been up in an airplane in my life," Pacanovsky said, "but if we win this, I can see that I am going to make an exception." The Franklin institute competition, sponsored by Ford Motor company, was open to pupils at public, private and parochial schools throughout the Philadelphia area. The only four Hill exhibits, all winners of gold certificates, were: a modern-design dining room table by Sibley Smith Jr., Fifth form; modern-design desk, Anthony Catlin, Fifth form; tilt top table, Albert L. Hayes Jr., Sixth form (this year's graduating class) and a turned wooden bowl, Catlin.

Liquor Law Violator Sentenced to Prison For Second Offense

By Staff Correspondent

NORRISTOWN, June 10 — A second offender, Edward Smith, 60, of 47 Hemlock row, Pottstown, was fined $200 and committed to the county prison for three months after he pleaded guilty to a charge of violation of the State Liquor Control act before Judge E. Arnold Forrest today.

Smith was arrested March 16, three days after State liquor agents, Pottstown police and county detectives raided his home, in a mass move against bootleggers in the Pottstown area.

Agent William M. Campbell testified that he purchased beer and liquor from Smith on two occasions the past January. He said the man had no license to sell alcoholic beverages.

Smith first violated the liquor laws in 1939, according to records in the district attorney's office. On Oct. 15 of that year he was sentenced to 90 days in prison by Judge George C. Corson for possession.

Druggist Is Reported Improved at Hospital

Charles S. Bentz, 69-year-old Pottstown druggist, was reported as "improved" yesterday in Pottstown hospital, where he had been seriously ill following a stroke.

Bentz suffered the stroke at his home, 1033 High street, the past June 2. He was founder of Bentz Drug store on the northwest corner of High and Hanover streets.

After nearly 40 years in business, Bentz sold this store in 1941 to Harold R. Dietrich. In recent years, Bentz has been a pharmacist for Canning's Drug store, High and Washington streets.

Soviet Zone Decrees Aim at German Unity

BERLIN, June 10 (P)—The politburo of the East German Communist party tonight issued a series of sweeping decrees designed to make the Soviet occupation zone appear more attractive for purposes of German unity.

The directives seemed to wash out the previously announced aim of communizing the area between the Elbe and Oder rivers.

At the same time, Allied officers disclosed the Russians have abruptly halted work on a giant "Pearl Harbor" type naval base on Ruegen island, which is East German territory. The Allies believe the Soviets may have taken this step to eliminate what might turn out later to be a sore spot in peace talks with the West.

THE POWER BEHIND MARILYN MONROE

By ARMAND ARCHERD
(Central Press Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD—Today I'm going to let you in on a secret. Marilyn Monroe has a dramatic coach!

"Who needs it?" you ask. Apparently her studio and Marilyn agree she does. After all, they claim, how much pure unadulterated sex can you sell without backing it up with ability? And they know Marilyn has a tremendous box office potential if she can act just a wee bit.

Just as Marilyn had gone all out, so has the studio in getting her the best of professional advice.

Marilyn's mentor is Natasha Lytess, a prematurely gray, 34-year-old former actress, director and coach. Natasha, a slight, but tremendously dynamic Russian-born, German educated woman, is now the power behind the throne in everything that Marilyn does in front of the camera.

SHE IS STRICT, persistent and patient with her young pupil Lytess, who worked with the Max Reinhardt group for many years, is no newcomer to teaching beautiful girls to say "yes," "no" and other more difficult lines.

After all, look what she did for Virginia Mayo, one of her first pupils. When Natasha took her in tow, Virginia was just starting in films. Now Miss Mayo earns several thousand a week. So you must admit Natasha knows her onions.

Marilyn and she are inseparable. They study every free moment between scenes and at night.

"THEY CALL ME a Svengali," Miss Lytess told us, "but I don't care. I want to do the best job I can, and Marilyn is very loyal and anxious to do a good job, too."

We asked if Marilyn had any acting ability. And then she took off. "She is not a natural actress," said Natasha. "She has to learn to have a free voice and a free body to act. She must learn to act with her eyes. If her eyes don't say the words then her body and voice will say nothing too."

(I interrupt to point out this is all a system of "Natural Acting" which Miss Lytess was explaining.)

"Marilyn could go on by herself without any help, but she wants to learn, which is good. Every young actor needs direction and guidance. She needs to build confidence."

"A great actor understands

Marilyn Monroe goes back to "school" and again becomes the prettiest pupil in America. She is shown with Natasha Lytess, her acting coach.

She is of course, very young. "A young actor has to understand it yet. Her life has around him which must be untied, not been happy up to now, any so he (or she) can learn how to act. And don't tell me that her experience will help make a good actress out of her."

"THE MORE PICTURES Marilyn does doesn't mean the experience will be good," Miss Lytess continued. "Experience in films can be fatal to an actor. They can stagnate in the habit of ways they keep in picture after picture. They have to become natural instead of habitual."

(I interrupt to point out again this is all a system of "Natural Acting" which Miss Lytess was explaining.)

"Marilyn could go on by herself without any help, but she wants to learn, which is good. Every young actor needs direction and guidance. She needs to build confidence."

SIZES 11 to 2 $5.99
SIZES 2 1/2 to 6 $6.45

Now boys can have shoes that feel as good as they look. The secret? Measured fit—the difference between Father & Son Guide-Steps and ordinary shoes. Measured fit means better fit; better fit means more comfort. All shoes are made over wooden forms called lasts. Ordinary lasts are checked for accuracy of fit with a tape measure at 4 places. Guide-Step lasts are checked on the Contourgraph for 1/100 of an inch accuracy at 19 places, not just 4! That's measured fit, based on 21 years of research during which more than $10,000 measurements were made of foot function. That's why boys get more comfort from the very first step in Guide-Steps.

The court awarded Wollheim whose wife and small son were killed by the Nazis the full amount of his claim. Farben was charged with the costs of the trial. The verdict, however, is subject to appeal.

East Germany Announces End of Protestant Church Battle

BERLIN, June 10 (AP)—The East German Government announced tonight an end to its bitter fight on the German Protestant church and the Reds also eased Kremlin pressures in the Soviet zones of Germany and Austria.

Catholic officials in Germany said they, too, were affected by the declared softer policy of the Red officials toward the Protestants. The Catholics said they hoped to receive a similar promise of relief from Communist persecution.

These were the main developments of the day:

1. A nine-point agreement covering most of the open conflicts between the Protestants and the East German Reds was announced jointly by Communist Premier Otto Grotewohl and Bishop Otto G. Dibelius, head of the Protestant church for all Germany.

2. The Politburo of the East German Communist party issued a series of sweeping decrees designed to make the Soviet occupation zone appear more attractive for purposes of German unification. Westerners felt sure this marked a new Kremlin policy conveyed to the East German Reds by Vladimir S. Semenov, new Russian supreme commissar for East Germany.

3. THE ANNOUNCEMENT in Vienna that Russia had decided to appoint an ambassador to Austria and re-establish full diplomatic relations with that occupied country, a step taken some time ago by the Western Powers. Russian action followed by a few days Soviet relaxation of military and economic controls maintained in Austria since the end of World War II.

The Politburo declaration said measures would be undertaken to facilitate traffic between East and West Germany but did not explain how it might be done.

A follow-up move by the Russians for a Four-Power meeting on Germany was viewed as a possibility by Western officials here tonight.

One veteran authority said it was clear the Communists were setting up the props for some more important action to be divulged.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT of the easing of Church-State tensions was made after Bishop Dibelius and Grotewohl had conferred for three hours in East Berlin.

German Catholics, welcoming the Protestant-Government agreement, noted that five Catholic clergymen had been imprisoned for alleged anti-state activities in East Germany and that some church property had been confiscated. The Catholic officials said the church would not ask for a general discussion of the situation, leaving the initiative to the Soviet zone Government.

The program announced by the East German Communist Politburo appeared to have wiped out a previously announced aim of communizing the area between the Elbe and Oder rivers. The decree provided for freezing the collective farm system in East Germany, making State bank credits available to private businessmen, inducing refugees to the West to return and receive back their confiscated property, granting a general amnesty for prisoners serving one to three years on charges of damaging the State-owned economy, and issuing ration cards to all prisoners, without favor.

Grotewohl, head of the Politburo, said that body "in its discussions is aiming at the re-establishment of the unity of Germany which requires from both sides concrete measures to bring this about."

THE ANNOUNCEMENT in Vienna of the changed Soviet policy toward Austria disclosed that Ivan I. Hlychey, named new Soviet high commissioner to Austria only three days ago, also will be new Russian ambassador to Vienna.

Informed quarters in Berlin hinted that the East German Government had been ordered by Semenov to change its attitude toward the church. The Protestants are the most powerful single church group in East Germany, with Bishop Dibelius speaking for 16 million of the zone's 18 million churchgoers in addition to speaking for another 25 million in the West.

The local man served as an artillery officer with the US Army while there.

TWO INJURED IN ACCIDENTS

Men Admitted to Hospital After Mishaps Occur At Work

Two industrial accidents were reported last night by Pottstown hospital attendants.

John Whalen, 30, of Birdsboro, was admitted about 6:30 o'clock with a burn injury of the left leg which he received while working at a die-casting machine at the Doehler-Jarvis plant.

A company spokesman reported that a piece of molten metal fell on Whalen's leg.

The injury was serious enough to necessitate treatment and attendants at the hospital reported his condition as good.

In a second accident which occurred at Spicer's, a 21-year-old Duff, Frederick man was admitted to the hospital with a possible fracture.

ture of the left leg. Daniel Ganovsky, a lift truck operator, was injured when the lift truck he was driving backed up into a container. His condition also was reported as good. He was admitted at about 7 p. m.

Norco Grange Slates Public Concert Tonight

The program of vocal music will be presented by the Firestone Male chorus at 8:30 o'clock, immediately after the Grange business meeting.

It will be the first time the 25-member group has sung at the Grange, Mrs. Nettie Hartmaier, Grange lecturer, said.

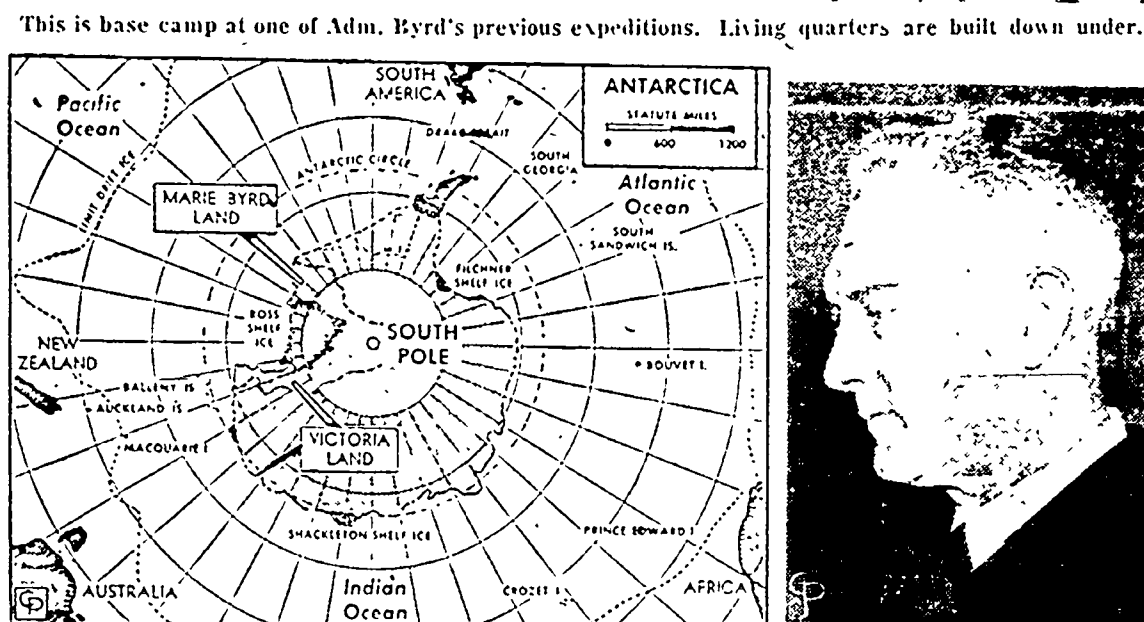

DUFF GETS DEGREE

PITTSBURGH, June 10 (AP)—The University of Pittsburgh graduated 1736 students today and gave honorary degrees to Sen. James H. Curran at Spicer's, a 21-year-old Duff, Frederick man was admitted to the hospital with a possible fracture.

ARTHRITIS PAINS GONE!

Mrs. Ed. H. Showers, Sheridan B. D. 1 P. writes: I had a bad case of arthritis involving from joint to joint with great pain. My arms would pain me and get stiff that I could not reach back to tie my apron strings or comb my hair. I would get tired so easily I was unable to do my housework. After taking Crownhill Minerals for three weeks I started to feel different. Now I am doing my work again and feel much better. I believe this was a Godsend to me.

Man Held for Court With $500 Bail Set On Hit-Run Charge

A Norristown motorist is being held under $500 bail for court on a hit-run charge following an accident early yesterday morning which involved a 23-year-old Phoenixville woman driver on Egypt road in Oaks.

Anna McCormick, of Phoenixville RD 1, told investigating State troopers that she was driving west on Egypt road when an eastbound car sideswiped her car and the driver failed to stop.

Following an investigation, Troopers John Schneider and Martin Jeffers picked up Michael Monastero, 47, of 300 East Main street, Norristown, a short time after the accident.

Damage to the McCormick car was estimated at $100 and to Monastero's, $25.

The accident occurred about 12:30 o'clock yesterday morning. Monastero was arraigned before Magistrate Charles H. Jamison, of Norristown, following his arrest.

Queen to Give Cross To Mt. Everest Guide

KATMANDU, Nepal, June 10 (AP)—The Kingdom of Nepal "conceded gladly" today to the idea of having Britain's Queen Elizabeth II award the George Cross to Tiger Tensing Dhutta, the Sherpa tribesman hero of Mt. Everest.

Latest reports here credit Tiger Tensing with being the first to top the world's biggest bump ahead of New Zealander Edmund Hillary in Col. John Hunt's successful expedition.

Queen Elizabeth knighted Hillary and Hunt and her Government undertook consultations with Nepal to determine what honor would be acceptable for the guide who showed the way. He is a Nepalese subject.

Reports today said Tiger Tensing would receive the George Cross—awarded for extraordinary bravery—personally from Queen Elizabeth when he flies to London with Hillary.

"Groucho's surgery is so minor that he even thought of doing it himself but couldn't find anyone to hold the mirror."
